Introduction

Section 17. (1) of the Election Act requires that:

“During each Parliament of the Legislature, beginning on the first Monday in May in the third calendar year after the general election for that Parliament, there shall be, unless the Legislature is earlier dissolved, an enumeration of voters in all electoral districts.”

A total of 6,607 enumerators were employed during Enumeration ‘89, which commenced on Monday, May 1st. Door-to-door visitations were completed on May 20th.

Enumerators visited each residence in the Province in order to obtain completed and signed application cards from new applicants, and where residents were already registered, to confirm those registrations.

If prospective voters were not at home at the time of the enumerator’s first visit, a second visit was automatically made. At that time, if they were again not at home, application cards were left for completion and return to the Registrar of Voters. Postage-paid envelopes were included for the convenience of the applicants.

Residential visits were made from 9:00 a.m. - 9:00 p.m., Monday to Saturday, and on Sunday from 1:00 p.m. - 6:00 p.m.

The revision of voters’ files was completed on July 28th. Phase One of the Provincial enumeration concluded with the mailing of plastic coated Voter Identification Cards to all registered voters. These cards replaced the Confirmation of Registration cards used in earlier years. In addition to confirming registration, the Voter Identification Card serves as a reminder to voters to keep their registration up-to-date. The Voter Identification Card may also be used as identification at the polling place on election day.

Phase Two of Enumeration ‘89 commenced with a Province-wide informational advertising campaign to encourage unregistered voters to become registered. Eligible voters who had not become registered during the Phase One door-to-door campaign and persons who had not yet received their Voter Identification Card were encouraged to contact their Registrar of Voters. Throughout the entire enumeration process, comprehensive informational advertising was prominently carried in Provincial newspapers and on radio stations.

Phase Three of the enumeration/registration process, which commenced on October 16, 1989, includes the ongoing registration of new voters as well as updates to existing voter registration information.

Voter Registration

To qualify as a voter in British Columbia, a person must be at least 19 years of age on Election Day, a Canadian Citizen, and have lived in the Province for a minimum of six months prior to applying for registration.

Voter registration in British Columbia is easier and more accessible than in any other Canadian electoral jurisdiction. Outside of an Enumeration, a prospective voter may obtain a Voter Registration application from the nearest Registrar of Voters or Government Agent. The application is completed and signed by the applicant and returned to the Registrar. At that point the applicant becomes a registered voter with his/her name included on the Voters List. Following registration, voters are encouraged to keep their registration information current by advising the appropriate Registrar of Voters of any change of name or address.

VOTER REGISTRATION IS POSSIBLE AT ANY TIME OUTSIDE OF AN ELECTION. There are also two intervals within an election period when voter registration is possible. During the first ten days following the issue of an Election Writ, an eligible voter may register or change registration information at any of the registration centres established throughout British Columbia. For a further six-day period prior to Election Day, unregistered voters can register and receive Voting Certificates allowing them to vote on the day of the Election.

Elections British Columbia maintains a computerized continuous Voters List which is updated daily as a result of information received from residents across the Province. Over 90% of all voters are registered before an election is called.

Voter Identification Card

To ensure that British Columbia's Voters List is current at all times, the updating of the information contained in each voter's file is as important as the actual registration itself. While enumerations and other voter registration programs have been effective, very few voters remember to contact their nearest Registrar of Voters if they change their name or address. Often, this information is not communicated until a Writ of election has been issued and as a result, there is great activity to update voter records at that time. Changing or updating voter registration during an election is costly and time consuming, and places great stress on already overworked election machinery.

The newly-introduced Voter Identification Card provides voters with a visual reminder to keep their voter registration up-to-date and thus ensure they are properly registered at the time of an election. The Voter Identification Cards have been well-received by the public, generating over 140,000 notifications of change of address to date, and providing gross savings of $120,000. Each change of address notification results in a further saving of 39¢ postage at election time as all election notices will be sent to correct addresses.

The retention and use of the Voter Identification Card by registered voters will also ensure significant cost reductions during an election as fewer address changes will be processed within the very limited time available.

ELECTIONS BRITISH COLUMBIA IS THE FIRST ELECTORAL JURISDICTION IN CANADA TO DEVELOP AND USE A VOTER IDENTIFICATION CARD.
