ORDER FOR A GENERAL ELECTION

The 38th provincial general election in British Columbia was held on May 17, 2005. This was the first general election under the fixed election date provisions in the Constitution Act. The Constitution Act was amended in 2002, requiring that General Voting Day be the second Tuesday in May every four years.

The Premier of British Columbia must still formally request the Lieutenant Governor to dissolve the provincial parliament and order a general election. An election is called by an Order in Council directing the Chief Electoral Officer to prepare and issue the writs of election. Each writ is signed by the Chief Electoral Officer and the Lieutenant Governor and addressed and issued to the District Electoral Officer of each electoral district. A writ of election includes the date for the nomination of candidates, General Voting Day and when the writ must be returned to the Chief Electoral Officer.

On April 19, 2005, the Lieutenant Governor, the Honourable Iona Campagnolo, dissolved the Legislative Assembly and an Order in Council was issued directing the Chief Electoral Officer to issue the writs of election to all 79 electoral districts, ordering that the general election be held on Tuesday, May 17, 2005.

During the 38th provincial general election, voters were provided two ballots – one for a candidate and one for the Referendum on Electoral Reform. Under the Electoral Reform Referendum Act, the referendum was conducted in conjunction with the general election. For voting results and more information about the referendum see the Statement of Votes, Referendum on Electoral Reform, May 17, 2005.

CHANGES TO THE ELECTION ACT

The Election Act provides the framework for conducting provincial elections and codifies citizens' constitutional right to vote in a provincial election.

A number of amendments were made to the Election Act since the May 16, 2001 provincial general election. The following are summaries of the more significant changes as a result of the amendments.

Bill 59 – 2002

Section 180(5)(a) – Definition of a volunteer

The definition of a volunteer is changed to prohibit individuals from receiving compensation, directly or indirectly, from their employer while volunteering. An employee that continues to be compensated by their employer is not a volunteer and the value of their services is a political contribution from the employer and an expense that must be reported by the registered political party or candidate receiving the services of the individual.

Section 186(4) – Charities and political contributions

Charitable organizations are no longer allowed to make political contributions. A charitable organization includes any organization whose objective is the relief of poverty, advancement of education or religion, protection of health, or governmental or municipal purposes beneficial to the community. This definition applies whether or not the organization is a registered charity for income tax purposes.

Section 235 – Publication of election opinion surveys

Individuals or organizations are no longer required to publish information about an election opinion survey, such as methodology or its sponsor, with the results of the survey.

Section 236 to 238 – Election advertising limits

Election advertising sponsors are no longer subject to spending limits.

Bill 66 – 2003

Section 30(b) – All individuals imprisoned may vote

Individuals imprisoned in a penal institution serving a sentence of two years or more are no longer prohibited from voting in provincial elections. Previously, only individuals serving a sentence of less than two years could vote in a provincial election.

Bill 90 – 2003

Section 42 – General enumerations

The Chief Electoral Officer is no longer required to conduct a province-wide enumeration in the third calendar year after a general election.

Bill 54 – 2004

Sections 32(5) and (6) – Residency requirements

Individuals who have no dwelling place may register as a voter on the basis that their place of residence is a shelter, hostel or similar institution that provides food, lodging or other social services.

Section 35(1) – Signature requirement for voter registration

The Act was amended to remove the requirement for a voter's signature at the time of registration, permitting innovations such as online voter registration.

Section 39.1 – National Register of Electors

This new section of the Act permits Elections BC to use the federal voters list to update and add voters to the provincial voters list.

VOTER REGISTRATION

Elections BC strives to ensure eligible voters are provided with every opportunity to register to vote or to update their current registration. Taking advantage of a fixed election date, Elections BC was able to implement a targeted enumeration strategy through 2004/05 to improve the quality of the provincial voters list in preparation for the 38th provincial general election.

This targeted enumeration included the merging of the federal voters list with B.C.'s provincial voters list, the introduction of North America's first comprehensive online voter registration services, an integrated mail and media-based communications program, and a targeted registration drive specifically reaching out to the elderly and the homeless.

During the targeted enumeration period (October 2004 to April 19, 2005), Elections BC added 626,872 new voter registrations and processed hundreds of thousands of updates to existing voter records. In comparison, the provincial enumerations in 1989 (door to door) and 1999 (mail based) each added approximately 30,000 new voters to the provincial voters list.

During the election period, general registration was available from Writ Day (April 19, 2005) to the end of Day 7 (April 26, 2005). Registration closes on the seventh day after an election is called to allow for production and printing of the voters list. General registration opens again on the second day after General Voting Day.

Under sections 34 and 41 of the Election Act, registering or updating voter registrations in conjunction with voting is available at all voting opportunities for qualified individuals who were not previously registered, or who are no longer registered at the correct address. To register in conjunction with voting, applicants are required to present two pieces of identification that show, in combination, their name, current residential address and signature.

There were 228,910 voter registration transactions completed in conjunction with voting, resulting in 81,519 new registrations and 147,391 updates to the provincial voters list.

The number of registered voters at the end of General Voting Day was 2,845,284, representing 93.31% of estimated eligible voters.

PUBLIC INFORMATION AND COMMUNICATIONS

British Columbia provides more voting opportunities than any other jurisdiction in Canada. To ensure voters across the province were informed of the May 17, 2005 provincial general election, Elections BC developed a comprehensive communications strategy to educate voters about their electoral rights, the electoral process and where they could quickly find the information they needed.

The communications strategy included advertising in local newspapers, television, movie theatres, cable TV and radio, developing a comprehensive website, distribution of Where to Vote cards, four outreach liaison officers, news releases, media advisory notices and extended hours of operation for a 1-800 information centre.

For the first time, Elections BC played a motivational advertisement in 59 movie theatres across British Columbia from April 19 to May 17, 2005. The advertisement was designed to remind voters of the importance of democratic participation and encourage them to vote. An estimated 1.2 million people viewed this advertisement.

Elections BC also developed a new comprehensive website specifically for the election. Election BC's website is its primary tool for delivering information to clients and promoting openness and transparency in the electoral process. The site was designed to make it more functional, accessible and comprehensive. Voters could quickly locate their voting place by entering their address information; a map would appear that provided detailed directions from the voter's home to their assigned voting place.

Voters who were out of the province during the election period were able to request a mail-in voting package online. Voters were also able to register, update or confirm their voter registration information online until the close of general registration at midnight on April 26, 2005. British Columbia is the first jurisdiction in North America to have comprehensive online voter registration services. Further information available on the website included District Electoral Officers' office details, candidates, past election results and statistics, as well as information about registration and voting opportunities.

Elections BC's website has proved to be a leading resource for voters, the media and other clients. The number of visits to Elections BC's website ranged from 2,732 to 15,930 per day during the campaign period, with a peak of 50,779 visits on General Voting Day.

Aboriginal, Chinese, Indo-Canadian and youth liaison officers were hired from November 2004 until May 31, 2005. The liaison officers' role was to raise awareness of the electoral process and improve participation rates in these targeted communities and groups that have historically participated at a lower rate than the general population in British Columbia elections.

The media played an integral part in ensuring voters were provided with accurate and timely information during the election period. Elections BC issued four news releases, many media advisory notices and participated in over 2,000 television, radio and newspaper interviews.

Eighty operators were employed in the Elections BC 1-800 information centre. Extended hours of operation for the centre were in place from Writ Day (April 19) until the close of voting on May 17, 2005. Operators were available Monday to Friday, 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Saturdays and Sundays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. During the 29-day campaign period, the 1-800 information centre assisted the public with 55,148 phone inquiries.

NOMINATION OF CANDIDATES

To be nominated as a candidate for election as a Member of the Legislative Assembly, an individual must be qualified for nomination under the Constitution Act and the Election Act and file all necessary documents for either a standing nomination or an ordinary nomination.

Standing nominations may be filed with the Chief Electoral Officer at any time before an election until the end of the 5th day after an election is called. Standing nominations enable nominees to file all of their documents, with the exception of the Solemn Declaration of Qualification and Statement of Disclosure, before the writ is issued. The remaining two documents must be submitted to Elections BC between Day 0 and Day 5 of an election.

Ordinary nominations may only be filed between 9 a.m. on Day 6 and 1 p.m. (Pacific time) on Day 15 of an election and must be submitted to the District Electoral Officer for the electoral district in which a nominee is seeking election.

Nominations must be signed by at least 25 voters residing in the electoral district and accompanied by a $100 deposit. The Chief Electoral Officer must return the deposit to candidates that receive at least 15% of the total votes accepted and counted in the election. When all the required nomination documents are accepted for filing, a certificate is issued indicating the individual is a candidate in the election. A candidate does not have to be a resident of the electoral district in which they are seeking election.

For the 38th provincial general election, nomination of candidates closed at 1 p.m. (Pacific time), Wednesday, May 4, 2005. There were 412 candidates nominated, representing 25 of the 45 registered political parties. Of the 412 candidates, 243 (59%) filed standing nominations. The following table shows the number of candidates endorsed by each registered political party. The political party name is as it appeared on the election ballots.

VOTING

The Election Act provides British Columbians numerous voting opportunities. While the great majority of voters cast ordinary ballots during advance and general voting (95.04% in the 2005 General Election), voters have been increasingly taking advantage of other voting opportunities.

If voters are unable to attend their assigned voting place, they may vote at any other voting opportunity in the province. For the 2005 General Election, voters could vote at any of the 85 district electoral offices starting on April 19, the day the writs of election were issued, as well as by mail if a voter expected to be out of the province or for other reasons permitted in the Election Act.

The table below shows the number of voters who used each voting opportunity during the 2005 General Election. As some voters only participated in either the election or referendum, participation numbers will differ between the two events. For the number of voters who used each voting opportunity in the referendum, see Statement of Votes for the 2005 Referendum on Electoral Reform.

The total number of votes considered does not include 5,163 certification envelopes that remained unopened. Certification envelopes that are not completed as required by the Election Act must remain unopened and any ballots within them must not be considered at the final count. As a result, the number of unopened certification envelopes is not part of voter participation calculations.

SUMMARY OF RESULTS

Ordinary ballots from advance voting and general voting are counted at the initial count, following the close of voting on General Voting Day (8 p.m. Pacific time). The initial count is the preliminary count of the votes marked on the ballots in an election, other than those contained in certification envelopes.

Ballots contained in certification envelopes from other voting opportunities, such as absentee voting and special voting, are considered at the final count. The final count is a count of the ballots in an election that were not considered as part of the initial count, and a determination of the results of the election based on the votes accepted in the initial count and final count.

The final count began at 9 a.m. on May 30, 2005 – Day 41 of the election period, 13 days after General Voting Day. During the period between the initial count and final count, certification envelopes containing absentee ballots are shipped to the appropriate District Electoral Officers. The final count is held in the district electoral office and may continue for up to three days. Following completion of the final count, the District Electoral Officer declares the election of the candidate with the most votes.

As part of the final count, District Electoral Officers may recount some or all of the ballots that were considered at the initial count if they have concerns regarding the validity of the results reported. If a candidate requests a recount of some or all of the election ballots considered at the initial count, the District Electoral Officer must recount these ballots as part of the final count.

During the 38th provincial general election, the final count began on May 30, 2005. A recount of the initial count was requested in seven electoral districts. An eighth recount was requested by a candidate in the electoral district of Alberni-Qualicum, but the request was subsequently withdrawn. All seven recounts concluded on May 31, 2005. The following table shows the preliminary results upon completion of the recounts. Reasons for the difference between preliminary vote counts include: accepting ballots that were previously rejected; rejecting ballots that were previously accepted; correcting tabulation and addition errors; correcting numeric transposition and other clerical errors; and correcting data entry errors made during the initial count.

Upon completion of the final count on June 1, 2005, the District Electoral Officer for the electoral district of Vancouver-Burrard made an application to the Supreme Court for a judicial recount. Under section 139(5)(b) of the Election Act, a judicial recount must be requested if the difference in votes received by the leading two candidates is less than 1/500 of the total ballots considered. After the final count, Lorne Mayencourt had 12,023 votes and Tim Stevenson had 12,005, a difference of less than 1/500 of the total ballots considered.

On Return Day, June 8, 2005, the writs of election were returned to the Chief Electoral Officer from all electoral districts but Vancouver-Burrard. The Chief Electoral Officer that day certified to the Clerk of the Legislative Assembly the election of 78 of the 79 Members of the Legislative Assembly.

The judicial recount in Vancouver-Burrard was conducted by Associate Chief Justice Patrick Dohm on June 6 and 7, 2005. Within two days following the conclusion of a judicial recount, a candidate may appeal the decision to the Supreme Court. This appeal period ended at the close of business on June 9, 2005, with no notice of appeal filed. On June 10, 2005, Justice Dohm certified the election of Lorne Mayencourt with 12,009 votes; Tim Stevenson received 11,998 votes. The Chief Electoral Officer then provided the Clerk of the Legislative Assembly with a certified report declaring Lorne Mayencourt as the Member elected for Vancouver-Burrard.

On June 22, 2005, Tim Stevenson filed a petition with the Supreme Court of B.C. to challenge the validity of the election in the electoral district of Vancouver-Burrard. Under Part 8 of the Election Act, a candidate in the election, a voter for the electoral district or the Chief Electoral Officer may make an application to the Supreme Court of B.C. for a declaration regarding the right of an individual to take office or the validity of an election. Mr. Stevenson later withdrew the petition on July 20, 2005.

The number of candidates elected and their political affiliation is as follows:

At least one Deputy District Electoral Officer is appointed by the Chief Electoral Officer to assist the District Electoral Officer. Each Deputy District Electoral Officer is also appointed as Deputy District Registrar of Voters for their electoral district.

Government Agents were also appointed by the Chief Electoral Officer as Deputy District Registrars of Voters. Service BC – Government Agents provide voters with convenient access to voter registration services and electoral information in 59 offices across B.C.

District Electoral Officers hired a total of 29,676 election officials for the 2005 General Election. Election officials worked in 1,656 voting places established throughout the province – 191 advance voting places and 1,465 general voting places.
